SPECIFICATIONS

The Olismoke is a table extractor for fumes and vapors caused by soft soldering. Olismoke is particularly helpful in the electronic, electro-technical and radio-technical sector, where the various components are assembled on printed circuits by soft soldering. The polluted air is removed, by means of a special flexible, articulated hose 4 inch diameter, model OLIFLEX, directly at its source before it can reach the operator's respiratory system. Using a small, high efficiency electro-fan, the polluted air is pushed upward where a filter cartridge is positioned. The OLISMOKE/CA model is equipped with an active carbon filtering cartridge placed on the fan's exhaust which takes care of the filtration of gases and fumes. It is also available as optional an additional cartridge in polyester with high filtering efficiency (OLISMOKE/CA/B). Olismoke therefore improves working conditions and increases production. The Olismoke is engineered specifically to be easy to handle, noiseless, and efficient. On top of being extremely light weight, it is possible to position the Olismoke filter in all directions. The filter is practical, powerful, and compact, which makes it useful in a number of different situations. The filter has also been constructed to reduce noise pollution in the surrounding environment.
